Dr. Larry Nickel is a Canadian composer, conductor, music publisher, teacher, choral adjudicator/clinician and a professional singer who devotes much of his focus to choral music. He's an associate conductor at the Canadian Music Centre and has composed for a wide spectrum of genres including symphonic and computer music, string quartet, woodwind and brass quintet, Symphony Orchestra, Symphonic Wind Ensemble and choral ensembles, including both secular and sacred music. Primarily, he has written and arranged hundreds of pieces for choirs.

In 2010 Nickel became the owner and conductor (with Diane Loomer) of Cypress Choral Music Publishing. Nickel's music is published by G. Schirmer, Shawnee Press, Goliard Music, Canyon Publishing, Morton Music, the Canadian National Conservatory of Music, Cypress Choral Music, Silent Dawn Publishing, and other publishers. Music, Canadian International Music and Oxford University Press.

Requiem for Peace, Nickel's DMA award-winning work is a major work in twelve languages for chorus, three soloists and symphony orchestra - which is gaining international recognition.

Larry and Edna live by the sea in Vancouver, close to their three children and five grand-children.

God Will Take Care of You and Without Him are from the Songs My Father Taught Me collection, which was recorded by the West Coast Men's Chorus and the Vancouver Chamber Choir. Nickel wrote and arranged the 22 pieces while he was recovering from viral encephalitis. Nickel and Tommie recorded the choir one morning over breakfast. Thirteen years later the choir had produced 13 CDs including over 100 of Larry's compositions. Proceeds from the CD sales, totalling nearly one million dollars, were donated to the MCC Supportive Care Services.

"Whether for church choirs or secular choirs I take every opportunity to proclaim the love of God". Larry
